

HAINES' VARIETY OF SUMMER LIFE

Starting Out On a Camping Trip at Kineo, Moosehead Lake, Maine

The "Damian" on Moosehead Lake, Maine. Miss Clarice Peterson at Wheel With Mrs. M. D. Peterson and Mrs. C. Doremus of New York

THEY ARE GAYLY FISH GLIDING AT BAR HARBOR TOO

Newest Dance Adds Itself to Tango and Turkey Trot—Prizes for Onestep.

Reception for Wife of Secretary of War—Many Dinner and Luncheon Parties.

Younger Set Planning Charity Cabaret Show—Varied Sporting Programme.

BAR HARBOR, Me., July 26.—A decided impetus was given the social life here this week and there were any number of dances, supplemented by a round of dinners, luncheons and teas. The popular dances have found favor at this Maine resort and to the turkey trot and tango, which are a wee bit old, has been added the fish glide. So almost every one either trots, tangoes or glides.

Gayeties at the Pot and Kettle Club opened Monday with a subscription dance, which was preceded by the usual dinners. The largest party was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence Green, who had twenty-four at their table. The Benjamin Chew had ten. Among those who attended the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sands, Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence Green, Mr. and Mrs. Stoddard, Miss Margaret Wright and Whitney Wright.

On Wednesday afternoon the first subscription dance was given at the Swimming Club, at which Mrs. Green offered a prize for the couple doing the best one step.

At Sea Urchin from 4 to 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon Mrs. Harrison received for Mrs. Garrison, wife of the Secretary of War, who was visiting Mrs. Thomas Walsh at Brimcliffe, formerly occupied by the Ned McLeans.

The dinner givers of the week included Dr. and Mrs. Augustus Thorndyke, who entertained Friday evening at the Country Club. At the de Gregoire dinners were given by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sands and Mrs. J. Howard Latham. The William Lawrence Green gave dinners at their cottages and the E. B. Mears at the Country Club. Mrs. A. Howard Hinkle and Mrs. Henry Lane Eno were among those to entertain luncheon parties.

The Wednesday night hop at the Malvern House proved a popular attraction and was attended by the cottagers as well as the hotel guests.

The sporting programme this season promises much that is interesting. At the Kebo Valley Club there is a golf match every Saturday morning and at the Country Club a trap shooting contest in the afternoon. Dr. James Mitchell of Washington is in charge of the trap shooting competition. The tennis fixtures at the Swimming Club include ladies' singles, July 28; State championship men's doubles, August 4; mixed doubles, August 18; ladies' singles, August 25.

Yacht racing is again a feature of the summer life. The Mount Desert Yacht Racing Association has been restored after several years of inactivity, and under its auspices ten bi-weekly events are being conducted on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. The entries include Edgar Scott's Nan, Louis McCarg's Skipjack, Joseph Phillips's Eleanor, Warwick Scott's Snooks, Benjamin Chew's Ishma and Alessandro Fabbr's Grit. A pennant is given to the winner of each race and a cup will be awarded at the close of the races.

Miss Susan Sturges of Boston, a member of the younger set, is organizing a cabaret show for the benefit of the Bar Harbor Hospital to be given at the Casino on the evening of August 12, which promises to be a big success both financially and socially.

Mrs. Philip Lydie, after spending three weeks here, returned to New York Tuesday. Mrs. Lydie stopped at the Malvern House on her arrival, but her name did not appear on the register. She later took an apartment in the Talleys. It was said the climate did not agree with her and her plans for the season were changed.

Miss Beatrice Elliott of London arrived this week to visit Miss Elizabeth Gregerson. Sir Arthur and Lady Elliott are expected later.

Mrs. Henry Slack of New York, returned this week from Boston and is with her mother, Mrs. Herbert Parsons, at Hon-fleur House, Halls Cove.

The Country Club Wednesday evening, Lydie Blair, commodore of the New York Yacht Club, arrived Wednesday at his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Blair at Blair Estate.

A. J. Drexel, Jr., on his yacht, Alcega, visited Bar Harbor this week. The majority of the cottages at Bar Harbor are open and the Isleboro Inn is well filled. Among those who have cottages are the Charles Dana Gibsons of New York, the George Drexels of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. George Newell and Mrs. W. W. Sturtevant Lothrop of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Parker and the Theodore Frothinghams of Philadelphia.

Among those at the Inn are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Peabody and the Misses Peabody, Mrs. W. W. Sturtevant Lothrop of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Parker and the Theodore Frothinghams of Philadelphia.

POLAND SPRINGS SEES CLOSE OF GAYEST JULY

POLAND SPRING, Me., July 26.—With both the larger hotels full and all the sporting and social activities of the resort at their best, the closing days of this month complete the gayest July ever known at Poland Spring. The first putting tournament of the season on the Poland Spring House green proved a brilliant affair. The four cups were swept away by New York people, who easily predominate among the golfers at this place. In a contest for men A. O. Beebe of New York defeated Irving Schmelzel of the same city 4 and 3 in the final round. The cups for ladies went to Mrs. H. L. Shaw, winner, and Mrs. Peterson Fay, runner up. Other New York people who participated were F. W. Lester, Arthur Taylor, B. H. Harned, Misses Pauline and Annette Luke, Mrs. H. Coffin, Mrs. H. Bridgman Smith, Miss Alice Guernsey, Mrs. J. A. Guernsey and E. H. Martin.

Garret A. Hobart, Jr., who, with Mrs. Hobart, is spending the summer at his camp on the Bangley Lakes, visited his mother and son, Garret A. 3d, at the Poland Spring House this week.

Allan Pettit of Philadelphia has bettered the high score of George W. Elkins, Jr., of Elkins Park, and is now leading in the annual billiard-bagatelle competition for the silver cups.

Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, who has a summer home at Eagle Island, Me., was a distinguished visitor at the Poland Spring House early this week.

Important additions to the social life of this resort are Mrs. Elphinstone Maitland and Miss Harmon of New York, who are at the Poland Spring House.

Returning regular visitors include Mr. and Mrs. William W. Laid of New York, who will be at the Poland Spring House for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. F. L. Halsted of Brooklyn is at the Mansion House for a short visit.

Benjamin L. Belt joined his family at the Poland Spring House late this week.

Misses N. B. Aldridge and Teresa M. Cole of New York are welcome additions to the younger set at Poland Spring.

HUNTING GAME WITH CAMERA IN THE ALLAGASH COUNTRY

KINEO, Me., July 26.—The exceptionally fine weather which the Moosehead Lake region always enjoys together with the great number of diverse sports, its natural formation marks this spot as being the summer resort of America.

The opening handicap motor boat race held under the auspices of the Moosehead Lake Yacht Club, was won by the Allagash canoe trip, hunting game with the camera, has returned with some very beautiful and interesting pictures, one of them showing a herd of sixteen deer drinking in a small lake.

The opening handicap motor boat race held under the auspices of the Moosehead Lake Yacht Club, was won by the Allagash canoe trip, hunting game with the camera, has returned with some very beautiful and interesting pictures, one of them showing a herd of sixteen deer drinking in a small lake.

Conklin of Atlanta, Ga., was second, with a handicap of 12 and 1/2. The Snipe, the property of Thomas Friant of Grand Rapids, Mich., and the Damiani, owned by Mrs. M. D. Peterson of New York, were first and second across the finish line respectively, but were penalized and thus forced to take third and fourth places.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Y. Cook and Miss Borden of Philadelphia arrived here July 17 for a ten days visit.

Prominent among returning visitors are Mrs. Washington Dill and the Misses J. H. and M. A. Dill of New York, who arrived at the New Mount Kineo House July 18 for the remainder of the season, coming here from Poland Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff and Miss Wagstaff of New York are at the New Kineo House for an indefinite stay.

Other New York people who arrived lately are Mrs. E. Sause, Adam Cook, Harry Ayner, N. J. Kalmus, Norman M. Cohen, S. Sidney Stern and John L. Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Young, Miss Miriam Young and Richmond Young of Boston are registered at the New Mount Kineo House for the remainder of the season.

Other arrivals are Albert J. Osgood, Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hall, Boston; F. Gilbert Pearson, New York; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bower, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Friedman, Hartford, Conn.; and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Neely and Mrs. William Childs, Jr., of New Jersey.

Among returning visitors welcomed each year at this resort are W. L. McLean and son, W. L. McLean, Jr., of Philadelphia, who arrived Tuesday and joined Mrs. McLean and daughter, who have been at the New Mount Kineo House since July 15, preparatory to going to their camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

OLD ORCHARD MAY HAVE REGULAR SUNDAY BALLS

Hotels Filled With Transient Guests This Record Breaking Season.

Interest in New Local Baseball Team—New Cottages Enlarge Colony.

OLD ORCHARD, Me., July 26.—The last few days have been record breakers at this resort. Hotels are nearly all filled to capacity and the transient visitors come in greater numbers each day. The attractions improve with the weeks both in quality and quantity, while cottages are being erected continually on a larger and finer scale than heretofore. The last week has seen the development of a baseball team for the benefit of the summer population, and the new aggregation has been highly successful.

There is a movement on foot in favor of Sunday ball, but the outcome is decidedly uncertain. The increased size of the Sunday crop warrants the furnishing of such healthy amusement, but there would be an accompanying amount of noise and excitement which would not meet with the favor of many of the regular cottage visitors here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Merkleon are spending part of their summer at the Goodall.

The Misses M. Donovan and M. F. Riley of New York are stopping for several weeks at the Revere House.

At the Heath cottage on Washington avenue Mrs. Andrew Whitman of Orono, on-Hudson and Mr. and Mrs. Alan A. Swift of Newark, N. J., are being entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Archibald of New York are in the Armstrong cottage on Oceana avenue, Ocean Park, for the summer.

Charles B. MacFarland and L. C. Barnes of New York, who have been attending the Free Baptist Conference on the Ocean Park Camp Ground, are stopping at the Granite State Hotel.

Miss Katherine Harrigan of Troy is expected this week to spend the rest of the summer with Miss Margaret Girouard.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. F. Ellis left for a trip to Boston and New York a few days ago. They are expected to return soon to their summer home, Oak Villa, on Staples Field.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gibbs of Orange, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wheeler of New Rochelle are among the recent arrivals at the Western.

gan of New York are spending several weeks in the Mount Kineo House.

This week's arrivals at the Everett House include R. P. Gile, Jersey City; Mrs. L. M. Lemon, Watertown, N. Y.; the Misses Mary A. Fagan and Margaret O'Donnell, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Y. Cook and Miss Borden of Philadelphia arrived here July 17 for a ten days visit.

Prominent among returning visitors are Mrs. Washington Dill and the Misses J. H. and M. A. Dill of New York, who arrived at the New Mount Kineo House July 18 for the remainder of the season, coming here from Poland Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff and Miss Wagstaff of New York are at the New Kineo House for an indefinite stay.

Other New York people who arrived lately are Mrs. E. Sause, Adam Cook, Harry Ayner, N. J. Kalmus, Norman M. Cohen, S. Sidney Stern and John L. Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Young, Miss Miriam Young and Richmond Young of Boston are registered at the New Mount Kineo House for the remainder of the season.

Other arrivals are Albert J. Osgood, Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hall, Boston; F. Gilbert Pearson, New York; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bower, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Friedman, Hartford, Conn.; and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Neely and Mrs. William Childs, Jr., of New Jersey.

Among returning visitors welcomed each year at this resort are W. L. McLean and son, W. L. McLean, Jr., of Philadelphia, who arrived Tuesday and joined Mrs. McLean and daughter, who have been at the New Mount Kineo House since July 15, preparatory to going to their camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

gan of New York are spending several weeks in the Mount Kineo House.

This week's arrivals at the Everett House include R. P. Gile, Jersey City; Mrs. L. M. Lemon, Watertown, N. Y.; the Misses Mary A. Fagan and Margaret O'Donnell, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Y. Cook and Miss Borden of Philadelphia arrived here July 17 for a ten days visit.

Prominent among returning visitors are Mrs. Washington Dill and the Misses J. H. and M. A. Dill of New York, who arrived at the New Mount Kineo House July 18 for the remainder of the season, coming here from Poland Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff and Miss Wagstaff of New York are at the New Kineo House for an indefinite stay.

Other New York people who arrived lately are Mrs. E. Sause, Adam Cook, Harry Ayner, N. J. Kalmus, Norman M. Cohen, S. Sidney Stern and John L. Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Young, Miss Miriam Young and Richmond Young of Boston are registered at the New Mount Kineo House for the remainder of the season.

Other arrivals are Albert J. Osgood, Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hall, Boston; F. Gilbert Pearson, New York; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bower, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Friedman, Hartford, Conn.; and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Neely and Mrs. William Childs, Jr., of New Jersey.

Among returning visitors welcomed each year at this resort are W. L. McLean and son, W. L. McLean, Jr., of Philadelphia, who arrived Tuesday and joined Mrs. McLean and daughter, who have been at the New Mount Kineo House since July 15, preparatory to going to their camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

gan of New York are spending several weeks in the Mount Kineo House.

This week's arrivals at the Everett House include R. P. Gile, Jersey City; Mrs. L. M. Lemon, Watertown, N. Y.; the Misses Mary A. Fagan and Margaret O'Donnell, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Y. Cook and Miss Borden of Philadelphia arrived here July 17 for a ten days visit.

Prominent among returning visitors are Mrs. Washington Dill and the Misses J. H. and M. A. Dill of New York, who arrived at the New Mount Kineo House July 18 for the remainder of the season, coming here from Poland Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff and Miss Wagstaff of New York are at the New Kineo House for an indefinite stay.

Other New York people who arrived lately are Mrs. E. Sause, Adam Cook, Harry Ayner, N. J. Kalmus, Norman M. Cohen, S. Sidney Stern and John L. Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Young, Miss Miriam Young and Richmond Young of Boston are registered at the New Mount Kineo House for the remainder of the season.

Other arrivals are Albert J. Osgood, Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hall, Boston; F. Gilbert Pearson, New York; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bower, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Friedman, Hartford, Conn.; and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Neely and Mrs. William Childs, Jr., of New Jersey.

Among returning visitors welcomed each year at this resort are W. L. McLean and son, W. L. McLean, Jr., of Philadelphia, who arrived Tuesday and joined Mrs. McLean and daughter, who have been at the New Mount Kineo House since July 15, preparatory to going to their camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

Horseback riding is more popular here this year than ever before, especially since the arrival of the horses from Durland's Academy. One of the most prominent devotees of this sport is Miss Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff of New York, who has been in position to Queen Mary's views that women should ride sidesaddle, and can daily be seen taking a canter over the Kineo roads riding astride.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Freeman and Clarence P. Freeman of St. Paul, Pa., are at the New Mount Kineo House for an extended trip.

gan of New York are spending several weeks in the Mount Kineo House.

This week's arrivals at the Everett House include R. P. Gile, Jersey City; Mrs. L. M. Lemon, Watertown, N. Y.; the Misses Mary A. Fagan and Margaret O'Donnell, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Y. Cook and Miss Borden of Philadelphia arrived here July 17 for a ten days visit.

Prominent among returning visitors are Mrs. Washington Dill and the Misses J. H. and M. A. Dill of New York, who arrived at the New Mount Kineo House July 18 for the remainder of the season, coming here from Poland Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff and Miss Wagstaff of New York are at the New Kineo House for an indefinite stay.

Other New York people who arrived lately are Mrs. E. Sause, Adam Cook, Harry Ayner, N. J. Kalmus, Norman M. Cohen, S. Sidney Stern and John L. Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Young, Miss Miriam Young and Richmond Young of Boston are registered at the New Mount Kineo House for the remainder of the season.

Other arrivals are Albert J. Osgood, Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hall, Boston; F. Gilbert Pearson, New York; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bower, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Friedman, Hartford, Conn.; and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Neely and Mrs. William Childs, Jr., of New Jersey.